I have searched the Interweb for similar apps for Bamboo and found "notifier" but this app is really not what I'm looking for. I'm not looking for another notification, that's what the iPhone is for. I want an app that is similar to a Bamboo commit message, with commit message, creator and author. Like if I look at my commit message for a file when I commit it. When I look at the author or the creator for that file. I want that same kind of information when I click on a file in my Bamboo build chart. I currently use the Notifications Dashboard on the iPhone which works OK, but it would be great to have this app for Bamboo. Bamboo is an agile, web-based source control management (SCM) and bug tracking system. It provides all the features of other SCMs, including collaborative working, version control, revision control, mailing lists, bug tracking and user interface testing. An example project in Bamboo can be found at the Open Bamboo project, a full admin console for the public Bamboo projects can be found at Bamboo-Admin. We've built Bamboo to help you and your team build software at a faster pace, reduce risk and improve release predictability. Bamboo uses Apache Ant build automation to speed up your builds,
